IN MEMORY OF THE LATE

Sir ALEXANDER CAMPBELL MACKENZIE

K.C.V.O., Mus. D., LL.D., D.C.L.

(Principal Emeritus, Royal Academy of Music).

1847 — 1935.

THURSDAY, MAY 9th, 1935

AT 12 NOON.

Before Service, the following Music will be played:—

POSTLUDE (In Memoriam)	...	}	A. C. Mackenzie.
BENEDICTUS	... ..

Order of Service.

---

The Choir will sing the following Sentences to Croft's setting, all standing.

I AM the resurrection and the life, saith the Lord : he that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live : and whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die.

WE brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out. The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away ; blessed be the Name of the Lord.

Then shall be sung the Psalm following to a Chant by
A. C. MACKENZIE.

PSALM XXIII. Dominus regit me.

THE Lord | is my | shepherd : therefore | can I | lack | nothing.

2. He shall feed me in a | green | pasture : and lead me
forth be- | side the | waters . of | comfort.

3. He shall con- | vert my | soul : and bring me forth in the paths of | righteous-ness | for his | Name's sake.

4. Yea though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death * I will | fear no | evil : for thou art with me *
thy | rod . and thy | staff | comfort . me.

5. Thou shalt prepare a table before me against | them .
that | trouble me : thou hast anointed my head with | oil .
and my | cup . shall be | full.

6. But thy loving-kindness and mercy shall follow me *
all the | days . of my | life : and I will dwell in the | house , of the | Lord for | ever.

Glory be to the Father | and . to the | Son : and | to
the | Holy | Ghost ;

As it was in the beginning * is now and | ever | shall
be : world without | end. | A- | men.

Then shall follow :

LESSON.—Wisdom iii, 1—9.

BUT the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, and there shall no torment touch them. In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die : and their departure is taken for misery, and their going from us to be utter destruction : but they are in peace. For though they be punished in the sight of men, yet is their hope full of immortality. And having been a little chastised, they shall be greatly rewarded : for God proved them, and found them worthy for Himself. As gold in the furnace hath He tried them, and received them as a burnt offering. And in the time of their visitation they shall shine, and run to and fro like sparks among the stubble. They shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people, and their Lord shall reign for ever. They that put their trust in Him shall understand the truth ; and such as be faithful in love shall abide with Him : for grace and mercy is to His saints, and He hath care for His elect.

The Lesson being ended, the following shall be sung to music by JOHN GOSS :

I HEARD a voice from heaven, saying unto me,
Write, from henceforth blessed are the dead which die
in the Lord ;
Even so saith the Spirit ; for they rest from their labours.

Then shall be said :

Lord, have mercy upon us.

Christ, have mercy upon us.

Lord, have mercy upon us.

OUR Father, which art in heaven, Hallowed be Thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, As it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, As we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation ; But deliver us from evil. Amen.

ALMIGHTY God, with Whom do live the spirits of them that depart hence in the Lord, and with Whom the souls of the faithful, after they are delivered from the burden of the flesh, are in joy and felicity; We give Thee hearty thanks, for that it hath pleased Thee to deliver Thy servant, ALEXANDER CAMPBELL, out of the miseries of this sinful world; beseeching Thee, that it may please Thee, of Thy gracious goodness, shortly to accomplish the number of Thine elect, and to hasten Thy kingdom; that we, with all those that are departed in the true faith of Thy Holy Name, may have our perfect consummation and bliss, both in body and soul, in Thy eternal and everlasting glory; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Assist us mercifully, O Lord, in these our supplications and prayers, and dispose the way of Thy servants towards the attainment of everlasting salvation; that, among all the changes and chances of this mortal life, they may ever be defended by Thy most gracious and ready help; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Grant to us, O Lord, together with all Thy faithful departed, peace, light and refreshment. Amen.

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Ghost, be with us all evermore. Amen.

HYMN No. 471 (E.H.)

PRAISE to the Holiest in the height,
And in the depth be praise,
In all his words most wonderful,
Most sure in all his ways.

O loving wisdom of our God !
When all was sin and shame,
A second Adam to the fight
And to the rescue came.

O wisest love ! that flesh and blood,
Which did in Adam fail,
Should strive afresh against their foe,
Should strive and should prevail ;

And that a higher gift than grace
Should flesh and blood refine,
God's presence and his very Self,
And Essence all-divine.

O generous love ! that he who smote
In Man for man the foe,
The double agony in Man
For man should undergo ;

And in the garden secretly,
And on the Cross on high,
Should teach his brethren, and inspire
To suffer and to die.

Praise to the Holiest in the height,
And in the depth be praise :
In all his words most wonderful,
Most sure in all his ways. Amen.

SYNOPSIS OF THE STORY:

ACT I.

As the curtain rises, Eva and Magdalena are seen amongst the congregation at the Service in the Church. Walther stands apart, his eyes fixed on Eva, who frequently turns towards him with mute gestures. After the hymn is sung, the congregation disperses. Walther, carried away by his love for Eva, boldly asks her if she is betrothed. Magdalena and Eva then explain that the latter's father has decided to marry Eva to the Mastersinger who, on the following day (Midsummer Day), shall be adjudged the best singer. Eva tells Walther that she will choose no one but him. Magdalena thereupon asks David, her sweetheart, to instruct Walther in the art of singing. Left alone with Walther, David explains the many rules and difficulties in singing according to the laws of the Guild, without knowledge of which Walther cannot hope to attain the rank of Mastersinger.

In the meantime, various Apprentices have entered, teasing David as they erect the Marker's box for the Song Trial.

Pogner then appears with Beckmesser, the crafty Town Clerk, the latter also hoping to win Eva's hand. Pogner and Walther exchange cordial greetings, Walther explaining that he wants to join the Guild of Mastersingers. The Mastersingers arrive by degrees and Kothner calls out their names. Pogner then announces his intentions in regard to Eva, the Masters praising him for his generous mind. A discussion follows in which Beckmesser shows his prejudices. At Pogner's invitation, Walther makes a re-appearance. He sings a song in which he tells how his art was taught him by the famous old Mastersinger, Sir Walter of the Vogelweid. This song, new in idiom, sounds strange to the ears of the Mastersingers. It is agreed, however, that Walther shall sing a Trial Song. After Kothner has read the quaint academic rules of singing from the Tabulature, Beckmesser, chosen to judge the singing, takes his place in the Marker's box.

Walther's Trial Song—an ecstatic song of Spring and Love—is condemned by all the Masters except Sachs and Pogner, Beckmesser noisily marking the faults on a slate. Sachs intervenes in support of Walther's candidature, warmly denouncing Beckmesser's dishonesty of purpose. He insists that Walther shall be heard to the end of his song. The continuation creates an uproar and the Act ends with the Masters voting the rejection of Walther.

ACT II.

The Apprentices are seen hanging garlands in honour of the Feast of St. John on the morrow, whilst Magdalena asks David for news of Walther. The gibes of the Apprentices rattle David. Sachs pushes him indoors; Pogner then appearing with Eva—anxious for news of Walther's fate. When Pogner has gone, Magdalena suggests asking Sachs, also warning Eva that Beckmesser is coming to serenade her. Sachs appears at the door of his house, his thoughts preoccupied with the beauty of Walther's song, and his senses charmed with the scent of the elder on this lovely summer evening. Eva comes to him guardedly seeking news of Walther, finally bursting into tears as Sachs (who is himself very fond of Eva) shows his impatience at the trouble Walther has caused that morning. Eva asks Magdalena to change places and clothes with her and appear at the window during Beckmesser's serenade. Walther now comes to Eva. They plan an elopement—Eva deciding to wear Magdalena's cloak. Sachs overhears them. After the decrepit old Nightwatchman has passed by, Sachs prevents their running away by flooding the alley with a light from his window that strikes across their only way of escape. The lovers hide in the shadow of the lime tree by Pogner's house. Beckmesser now arrives. As he is about to sing his serenade, Sachs begins a noisy song as he hammers the shoes he is making for Beckmesser. The latter is distraught. He sees the window opened and mistakes Magdalena for Eva. Eventually quiet is restored, Beckmesser being allowed to sing his serenade whilst Sachs acts as "Marker." An absurd situation is created, Beckmesser's faults in the serenade being registered by Sachs with hammer-blows on the shoes. Beckmesser gets crazed with the continual interruptions. David, from the window above Sachs' workshop, imagines Beckmesser to be serenading Magdalena. He rushes downstairs and sets on Beckmesser. The noise provokes a general street row. At the height of the fighting the Nightwatchman's horn is heard and the frightened people rush home to their beds. Sachs kicks David indoors, taking Walther with him, whilst Eva, half-fainting, is taken to her own house. The nervous Nightwatchman now appears and the curtain falls on the deserted alley.

ACT III. (Scene 1.)

Sachs is discovered reading as David, afraid of punishment for his share in last night's row, brings in a basket of food and flowers, hoping thereby to placate his master. Eventually Sachs is left alone to sing the monologue "Craze, craze!" in which he philosophises about the impish sprite of Romance—a "Kobold"—who plays such a part in the fashioning of all lives and deeds. Walther enters, telling Sachs that he has dreamt a song "of beauty rare." He sings it, Sachs taking it down on paper. Beckmesser, lame and bruised with his beating, steals into the empty room, sees the poem in Sachs' writing, and pockets it just as Sachs reappears. He accuses Sachs of duplicity, but is assured that the latter does not intend to sing at the Tournament. Sachs gives the poem to Beckmesser, who sees an opportunity of profiting by the gift. Beckmesser leaves in high spirits, hoping to win Eva by singing his own music to what he imagines to be a fine poem by Sachs. Eva visits Sachs on the pretence of having trouble with her shoes. Whilst Sachs is altering one of them, Walther appears and sings the third verse of his Dream Song. Overcome with her emotion, Eva thanks Sachs for his generous friendship, whilst the latter alludes to his own love for Eva in a reference to the tragic fate of Tristan and Isolde and the woeful plight of the old King Mark. The tension is broken by the appearance of Magdalena and David, both dressed for the Tournament. Sachs makes David a journeyman and then christens Walther's song, calling it "the Mode of the Morning Dream Story." The famous quintet follows—the most eloquent piece of lyrical music ever penned by any composer.

ACT III. (Scene 2.)

The scene now changes to the banks of the River Pegnitz, where a great crowd welcomes the Guilds of Shoemakers, Tailors, and Bakers. Gaily attired maidens arrive from Furth and dance with the Apprentices. The Mastersingers appear, headed by Kothner—Eva on the arm of Pogner, Beckmesser limping behind. All sing the "Awake" Chorus in honour of their great favourite Sachs. The Song Trial begins with Beckmesser. With failing memory he sings a nonsensical version of the poem obtained from Sachs, to the great amusement of the crowd. Beckmesser breaks into a fury, telling them that Sachs wrote the song. Sachs explains, calling Walther to bear witness to the real authorship of the song, which the latter does in the well-known "Prize-Song." The people listen with increasing admiration, and at the end Eva places a laurel wreath on Walther's head. After a momentary hesitation, Walther accepts the medal of "King David," thereby being acknowledged as a Master singer. Eva takes the laurel wreath from Walther and places it on Sachs' head. The opera then ends with triumphant music from everyone in praise of Hans Sachs, the Cobbler-Poet of Nuremberg.

Royal Academy of Music

OPERA.

The study of Opera is carried on in the Royal Academy of Music as an adjunct to the training of Singers, all of whom are expected to take part in this work.

The Course of Study comprises lessons in Singing, Stage Gesture, Stage-Craft and Diction, Dancing and General Musicianship. Special Operatic Rehearsal Classes are held under the direction of Miss ISOBEL McLAREN, A.R.A.M., and Mr. GEOFFREY DUNN, A.R.A.M., and Informal Rehearsals take place frequently in the Duke's Rehearsal Theatre. The object of these Classes is to enable every properly qualified student to gain experience in all kinds of rôles—principal and secondary.

FOUNDATION.

THIS Royal and National Institution was founded in the year 1822 through the patriotic exertions of John Fane (Lord Burghersh), eleventh Earl of Westmorland, and commenced its public work in 1823 under the direct patronage of His Majesty King George IV., whose interest in its welfare was manifested by an annual subscription of one hundred guineas.

OBJECTS.

The objects of the Academy, as set forth in its Charter, are "to promote the cultivation of the science of music, and to afford facilities for attaining perfection in it by assisting with general instruction all persons desirous of acquiring a knowledge thereof," and by a Supplementary Charter granted November 29th, 1910, the privileges of the Institution were extended so as "to do all and all manner of acts and things whatsoever and wheresoever which shall be necessary for or conducive to the effecting or carrying out the objects of the Royal Academy of Music or which the Board of Directors thereof shall in their discretion consider necessary."

HISTORY.

Shortly after the opening of the Academy, His Majesty King George IV. further evinced his interest in the School by granting it a Royal Charter on June 23rd, 1830. His successors, King William IV., Queen Victoria, and King Edward VII., were also Patrons of the Academy, and continued the pecuniary contribution to its funds.

As Prince and Princess of Wales, Their late Majesties King Edward VII. and Queen Alexandra conferred the highest distinction upon the Academy by graciously attending, in person, the Distribution of Prizes in the year 1897, and the present Sovereign, His Majesty King George V., with his Consort, Queen Mary, have indicated their interest in the institution by heading the list of Royal Patrons.

On the lamented death of the President, H.R.H. the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, in 1900, the Academy was honoured by the gracious acceptance of the Presidentship by H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught and Strathearn.

Of the large number who, during the hundred odd years' life of the Academy, have received their training within its walls, many have attained to positions of eminence and distinction, not only in the British Empire, but in all parts of the world.
